FOREWORD

This Ontario Statistical Review for 1963 has been designed to complement the monthly Ontario Economic Review and to fulfill the need for an annual reference document.

Part I consists of charts depicting the changes in twenty-eight economic indicators over the past 17 years. Part II contains both the actual figures for these and other indicators in addition to monthly seasonally adjusted figures for the past two years. Part III contains selected historical tables on various aspects of the Ontario economy. Estimates have been made in those instances where complete data for 1963 are not yet available.

February, 1964.

ONTARIO

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS AND DEVELOPMENT

FOREWORD

The Ontario Statistical Review is an annual publication supplementing the monthly Ontario Economic Review. Its purpose is to make more accessible a wide range of data relating to the economy of the Province of Ontario.

Part I consists of charts depicting the changes in twenty-seven economic indicators over the eighteen year period since 1946.

Part II contains the actual figures for these and other indicators, and where appropriate, seasonally-adjusted monthly figures for the past two years. The seasonally-adjusted indicators have been divided into two groups - "leading indicators" and "coincident and lagging indicators" - to facilitate the interpretation of the data.

Part III contains selected economic measurements for the counties and economic regions of Ontario.

The final section, Part IV, is made up of historical tables on various aspects of the Ontario economy. Estimates have been made in certain instances where complete 1964 data are not available.

Economics Branch,
March, 1965.
